Commodore's Comments:

Wow, that was some winter, huh? But finally, the first issue of the Main-sheet! That means summer is right around the corner, though you might not know it from the weather we're having. Hopefully it is over and spring will start showing itself soon. At least this past winter we got to live vicariously through the likes of Anne Haeger and Steph Roble, following their extraordinary sailing exploits as they travelled the globe and competed on the international stage with great success. But if you're like me, you're tired of living vicariously and are anxious to once again get out on the water to do battle with the elements and your fellow competitors.

And while the weather may not seem ready for such activities, I can assure you LBYC is! Sailing, tennis, cookouts, socials and fireworks – the calendar is full of our cherished summertime activities. Take a look, it is on the website, and mark your calendars now. The Board would also appreciate it if you would check the social and judging schedules as well and mark your calendars for those dates you've been assigned a duty because you know once the summer hits, it shifts into 5th gear and flies by faster than Randy Schmidt on one of his fancy touring road bikes.

So let's get those piers in the water and the boats out of storage. May your life jackets and boats be critter free, your batteries fully charged, the gas in your tanks good and your engines turn over on the first try. Looking forward to seeing you all this summer!

Frank Davenport Wins Springfield April 26, 27 Congrats!

from C World Online

Three races were sailed at the 2014 Springfield regatta. Light to medium breeze allowed for some great opening season excitement on Saturday where all three races were completed. 5-10 mph breeze, with lulls from 3-7, present for the two morning races. The first race was won by B-303 Frank Davenport with crew Ben Porter. After an impressive first race, it was clear that Frank was too good and his crew roll tacked him right into a capsize during the second race. The second race was won by the B-22 Glenn McMurray and Andrea Lee. The third race was held Saturday afternoon and had bigger breezes around 15 mph. BL-3 Patrick Lynch with crew Junior won race 3. Saturday's day ended with a feast at the yacht club over looking the lake. Sunday morning greeted sailors with 20+ mph breezes that made launching nearly impossible. The 19 boat regatta ended with the three races sailed on Saturday. Frank took first with a 1, 9, 2. V-137 Gluek was in 2nd, Glenn McMurray in 4th, Andrew Bohl in 7th and John Porter took 11th. Nice sailing!

The Opening Party on Saturday, May 24th, is only 2 weeks away.
 Featuring Saz's fine food.
 Be sure to reserve by May 17th.
 Details inside. See you there.

Ice formed Nov 29th on Lake Beulah

Chuck Heckman, who has a great view of the biggest part of the lake, reported that ice thick enough for geese to stand on it formed on November 29, 2013. He said that he could not see any open water. That ice remained all winter and was 3 feet thick or more. Some of the ice fishermen had to put extensions on their 3 foot ice augers. Photo of the frozen lake taken from the Dockside on the east shore. Penny Clayton and Kathy Will reported that on Friday April 11, 2014, the ice was gone and the lake was open again! Spring is here, surely summer will follow! We set at least a 10 year record as the ice went out on April 10th in 2013.

FROM THE SAILING COMMODORE

Thanks to all who provided their requests for PRO/Signal/Chase Boat scheduling. We were able to avert many conflicts. If you have a future conflict, please try to resolve it by finding a substitute for your date.

The Sailing Instructions have been revised! Many thanks to the fleet captains and several others who hashed out our new SI's. They follow the new US Sailing template, and the intent was to not make significant changes, although we did remove many of our outdated rules. The biggest change is the adoption of Appendix T and Arbitration. The 15.1 Penalty System follows the ILYA recommendation of a one turn exoneration circle anywhere on the course. The 17.3 Arbitration (non-binding) is a process which can be entered into if both parties agree, and allows the penalized party to receive a scoring deduction which can be removed with a throw-out. If you have questions on the SI's, check first with your fleet captain.

US Sailing Judges.... Congrats to J Porter, Bridgette, and Dennis! The four of us successfully passed the US Sailing Judges exam. Our biggest takeaway from the course, do your circle(s) on the course if you may have an infraction - it doesn't admit guilt. A great free resource to refresh your rule knowledge is <http://game.finckh.net/indexe.htm>

During the winter, The Eustis Sailing Club used the Self Inflating Marks (SIM) Cylinders which JP has been developing. Eustis preferred them and has decided to convert all their marks to the SIM cylinders - we will be doing the same. The cylinders have easier storage and handing, and they only require an 8# counter-weight. We also are updating our reels, lines, and anchors and how they are stored on the Signal Boat to reduce UV damage - you can get familiar with new equipment at the PRO & Signal Boat meeting on May 30th. See you there!

Beulah MCs Travel

By Al Haeger

Beulah MCs turned out in force for the MC Midwinters in Eustis., March 13-15th. John Porter (JP), Chris Kubicek, Steve Rotier, Dennis Smalley, and Al Haeger made LBYC the best represented club (outside of the host club) in this national event! We even had a pit crew of Jeff Lippert and Don Franzene. Zack Clayton and Mike Considine (UK Sails) also attended with ties to Beulah.

We made a week of it and arrived early to practice. Dennis attended Zenda U, run by the Melges team, and found it quite helpful. Chris, Steve and Al had two days of practice and coaching with JP. Awesome!

Regatta Day 1 saw medium-heavy air and two races with 75 boats. In Race 1, Zack and JP were over early, which kind of hurt, because Zack actually crossed finish line first, but ended up DSQ. Al sailed fast and finished third. In Race 2, it got a little trickier, with less obvious wind lines to show you where to go. Zack sailed well and placed third. Al managed another top ten finish. At the end of the day, Al stood third, only one point behind the leader.

Day 2 was lighter and changed things up some. Race 3 had Zack (10) and Chris (11) leading the Beulah group. Al faltered with a 28, and JP, Steve, and Dennis also did not fare well. After lunch we went out to a dying and spotty breeze, but raced anyway and experienced 90 degree shifts and big flat spots.

Day 3 came and went with no breeze, so the regatta was over. Ron Baerwitz (LESC) was the champ, with Rob Seidelmann, and

David Moring (LESC) rounding out the top three. Al finished 10th and Chris finished 16th. With no throwout, Zack and JP weren't able to shake their Race 1 blues. Steve and Dennis finished well for their first big national regatta. It was a great week, with lots of warm weather, learning, food and friends. We're all planning a return trip next year!

Socially Speaking

Spring Greetings!

I don't think anyone will disagree that it's been a long, especially harsh winter which means we will once again want to make the most of our summer on Lake Beulah.

What's new this year? Our Wednesday night cookout price will be $6 this summer. But, as always, quality will be SUPERB. Also new, we will offer a children's menu for $4. We will hope to see you at the Opening Party - May 24th (RESERVE NOW – See details below) and please plan to be at the 1st Wednesday Night Cookout - May 28th .

A preview of social assignments was emailed in early March, and an updated copy is included on the next page.. (You will find a few changes due to switches made after yearbook publication) If you find yourselves unable to meet your assigned event, it is your obligation to switch with another member(s). But first, you might want to be in touch with your committee chair and ask whether you could prepare food items the day before, or perform responsibilities after the race or help in any other creative way that might work out for you AND your committee. I would very much appreciate an email with any switches so that I can keep an up-to-date listing of member assignments.

Stephanie Roble #1 U.S. Woman Match Racer in 2013

(article edited from US Sailing matchracing page)

Finishing 2013 as the number one U.S. Open Match Racer is Don Wilson (Chicago, IL), sailing from the Chicago Match Race Center (CMRC), who finished the year strong by winning the Carlos Aguilar Grade 2 Match Race in the U.S. Virgin Islands. In second is Chris Poole from Portland, Maine. In third is Dustin Durant of Long Beach, CA. and if fourth place, David Storrs of Southport, CT. Wisconsin native Stephanie Roble, from Lake Beulah and her Epic Team Racing finished in fifth place in the US Open. She is the only woman in the top 10 US Match Racers for 2013.

Roble also finished the year as the number one U.S. Women's Match racer.

The top 5 US 2013 Women's are:

1. Stephanie Roble
2. Anna Tunnicliffe
3. Sally Barkow (Pine Lake)
4. Genny Tulloch
5. Nicole Breault

Roble has maintained the #1 position since June 16. . Roble and Barkow, both ILYA Champs, often team up to work together. Roble has recently moved to Miami so if you would like to contact her for information, or clinics, use stephanieroble@gmail.com. Steph continues her connection with the ILYA. She is currently serving on the ILYA Women's Clinic committee. She holds an ILYA Foundation Fund for fundraising purposes. All our young adult sailors continue to fundraise for elite opportunities to keep their names in the forefront.

George Kutsch Selected

The Midwest Collegiate Sailing Association All Conference Team is determined by the All Conference Selection Committee from sailor statistics collected during each calendar year. Selection criteria are based on strength of finishes as well as participation and awarded in three different categories: Co-Ed, Women and Crew. The team is announced at the MCSA Annual Meeting and receives recognition from Harken Yachting Equipment. We are proud to have our George Kutschenreuter selected as a co-ed skipper.

Annie Haeger and Briana Provancha Sailing Strong

At the end of April, Brianna (my crew) and I arrived back from our first two regattas. The common theme for this first trip was an all-star coaching group, built with a Gold Medal Coach and a multiple World Champion. First up was Trofeo S.A.R. Princess Sofia Regatta in Palma de Mallorca, Spain. We were fortunate enough to be able to work with Mark Ivey, who coached the Swedish star sailors in 2012 to a Gold medal. We made a huge leap during the week and cannot wait to apply his tactical lessons. The last day of the regatta we competed in the medal race. With speed troubles on the second upwind beat, we found ourselves finishing up in 3rd place in the race and 5th place overall.

The lead up to Hyeres World Cup was much different from other events as we only had 45 minutes with our coach Dave Ullman before day one. For those who are not familiar with Dave, he is a three-time 470 World Champion, with MANY MANY more accolades to his name. We were extremely lucky to be able to work with such an amazing talent in our sport!

During the regatta the wind directions varied greatly, all clocking in around 13 knots. We found ourselves in 3rd heading into the medal race. In second place, was the British team, only two points ahead of us. With all the excitement from match racing, we pulled the trigger early at "go" forcing us to clear ourselves. When all was said and done, we fought back in the race to 5th place, with the Brits ahead of us. We were proud to find ourselves on the podium, receiving the bronze medal!!!

Up next for us are two training camps scheduled in Santander, Spain and Long Beach, CA in June, as well as the 470 European Championships in Athens in early July. In the next couple months, we will be working closely with Grant Spanake and Dave Ullman to tackle our next goal of technical development. We are in a position to learn from two of the best technical minds in our sport and having the necessary equipment to get the most out of them is essential. With the country Olympic qualifiers in Santander this upcoming September at the ISAF combined Worlds, we have a lot of work to do and every donation moves us forward. Thank you, Lake Beulah, for every inch of your support!

Dave Davenport wins C Icebreaker It's All Ben All The Time

by Joe Skotarzak

Somewhere in some Chinese restaurant on the paper menu you're bound to find the Chinese Zodiac listing 2014 as THE YEAR OF BEN. As Ben himself would tell you, you can't win em' all if you don't win the first two – and, shoot, he's done that so he's on his way. I know, I know, Andrew, he's only the crew and you can feel free to insert a joke here about short people, but, still, he is batting 1.000 on the season! For those of you reading along at home, the C regatta season started weekend before last, April 26-27th, down in Springfield IL and a spirited group of hardy sailors made the trek down, including a handful of B boats. Uncle Frankie Davenport needed a crew and Ben Porter was up to the task and went along. The details of it all are elsewhere in this issue (and include our heroes going for an early-season swim) so I won't bore you with them here – long story short the 303 with Ben up front took the Springfield title. Everyone went back to work, or at least to their offices, to kill some time between C regattas.

Next up was the Icebreaker down at Cedar Lake, IN this past weekend May 3-4th. Dave Davenport took one look at his big brother's trophy from last weekend, then looked across the office at that hunkahunka burnin' crew over there working for Mary K and said "BENNY! You're coming with me this weekend, let's go win us a C regatta!" to which Ben replied (under his breath so as not to offend the boss's husband) "yeah, I dragged Frankie to victory, I'll get you there too I'm sure!

DUP!" while saying out loud in the best Homer Simpson he could muster "GREAT IDEA, BOSS!" And off they went. The fleet gathered at the CLYC almost 30 strong, including five B-boats with the 217 expected in the am, and good times were had by all on Friday night except for JP, John Porter, who got a bad pill and had some stomach upset.

On Saturday it all started rather inauspiciously as it was too windy for the 22 so they decided to take the day off and also for the 217 as their brand new mast was bent on its' very first trip up the lake – bumper times two. The good news is that brothers Davenport were 4th (333) and 6th (303) in race one, so they were in the hunt. The fleet lined up for another race after a brief reprieve and off they went. Our good friend Billy Madden raced to the lead and extended, but in this one Ben and Dave and the "Mothership" were not to be denied. They reeled Ol' Billy back in and got around him, and sailed away to the bullet in race #2 and into the lead in the clubhouse at the end of day one. Dave was heard to exclaim that "it was all Ben" in race two while Ben said to himself "well, duh. DUP!"

While ashore, JP saved three boats from an early trip home because he'd brought along a spare mast! The 217 took his tube, which freed up our Tang to put onto OO-824, while we used our own stays so the Forestay from John's spare could be put on Danny Madden's boat. Nice work, JP! Good times were had, the Derby was run, our friends at Cedar Lake put on a magnificent Prime Rib and Pork Chops dinner with all the trimmin's and it was good.

Sunday dawned and it looked not too windy,

Photos by Molly Guehrer

but then the breeze came up and everyone went to their small sails and added a third (and in the case of clan Burdick, fourth) crew if they had them, and we went sailing. Ben and Dave and the 333 were in the driver's seat and got off to a clean start. JP, back to full strength at last, and Pat Welscher got off to a clean start and led to the first buoy and sailed away. I have no way of knowing this for sure, but I'm guessing the conversation on the 333 had a lot to do with the relative merits of grinding down and passing the 317 v. winning the regatta and my hunch is that Ben was all-in on the former while the guy driving the bus was more inclined to focus on the latter. DUP! Either way, the 333 followed the 317 around the course for seven legs and that's the way it ended – John and Pat took the bullet in the last race convincingly, while the 333 took the title in the event in arguably more-convincing fashion with a 4-1-2 in the three race series while in the big breezes with just the two of them aboard! Another weekend, another win for Ben and a Davenport and the Beulah C fleet! DUP!

Next up: Cedar, WI on Mother's Day weekend. Unclear if Ben is going, as of press time. "Editor's note – I wasn't sure what this 'DUP' is all about and I asked my reporter and he wasn't terribly sure, so you'll have to ask the UBER crew himself if you want to know..."

Work Day generates record turnout

Hooray!!

Saturday, May 3rd was the first decent day that we have had in a long time. The turnout of workers was also the best that I have ever seen. We had 35 volunteers!

The coffee and rolls were available at 8 o'clock. The volunteers came in for a snack, but they stayed to work hard on many jobs and finished soon after noon. They did a really great job inside and out to get the Club in shape for summer.

THANK YOU ALL FOR YOUR HARD WORK !!!

Strange 911 Request: When Sandy Rotier asked her three year old Granddaughter Emily what she had gotten for Christmas, Emily ran to get her new nurses kit. After taking Grandma's temperature, blood pressure and applying a plastic bandage to grandma's finger, Emily took out her pager. "911, 911," she called, "please come and pick up my grandma." Sandy reminded her that she needed to give an address. Taking out her pager, Emily once again called "911, 911, please come and pick up my grandma and bring her a dress and make sure it is the right size."

Sidestays' Corner

From the President

Finally Spring has arrived as we anticipate another season on Lake Beulah. The LBYC Sidestays Board has been planning the summer's Sidestays sponsored events: noon socials, golf outing, fall trip and others. A complete Sidestays summer schedule will be inserted in your 2014 yearbook. We kick off the summer with a brunch on Tuesday, June 17th at 9:30 a.m. with a membership meeting to begin at 10:30 am. If you have not yet joined Sidestays for 2014, we welcome all former and new members.

Don't forget to check out the Sidestays Shoppe. Sandy Rotier and Carol Porter will have their Spring 2014 Collection available at the Opening Party and at the Wednesday Night Cookout.

Looking forward to seeing you.

Memories of a Great Christmas Party

A good crowd had a great time at the December 14th Christmas Party. Of course, Santa got a warm welcome from Chrissy Kubicek and the ETHS choir sang beautifully for us.

Candace and Dave Porter chaired this fine committee of Wendy and Joe Bitter, Brooke and Brian Brickler, Dianne and Harry Marek, Christine Porter, Laura Meagher, and Jim Kutsch. They are having a cup cake after working hard.

Mainsheet Delivery People Needed

It's once again time to confirm or recruit new Mainsheet delivery volunteers. Please email kathywill@aol.com to sign up. Delivery begins with the next issue. It's easy. Thanks!

Editor's Note: Spring has arrived and the lake is calling us to enjoy it.

Hopefully, this first Mainsheet will put you in the LBYC mood. Thank you for these early season photos and articles. The LBYC Board decided to eliminate the April issue since much of it would have been repeated in the current issue. Our next Mainsheet will appear on May 23rd and will be delivered to your door. The deadline for that issue will be Sunday, May 18th.

Many thanks to Penny Clayton and Peggy Krueger for their help in mailing this issue.

Please send your articles, photos and Luffables to me at.....

The following email was received from newer member Pat Thomas.

"As a fairly new member of the LYBC I would like to make a request of all of you to help ease new members into the club. I often have trouble connecting names and faces and there are just too many Daves, Carols and Bettys.... well, you get the idea. I often go to the Membership Directory on the club website but find very few have taken the time to post a picture. It is easy to do. Just have a picture ready to go on your desktop of you, or you and your spouse, log into www.lbyc.us, go to your name in the directory and click on the empty head that now represents you. Who wants to be an empty head right?"

Response from Candace Porter-Web site committee: "This is something, as you say, which is easy and members should do for themselves. This is the beauty of Club Express. Members have control over their info".
