World's Oldest Message in a Bottle Discovered

BY BECKY LITTLE / / / MARCH 7, 2018

The oldest message in a bottle ever discovered has washed up on a shore in Western Australia. Only this wasn't sent by a castaway as an S.O.S. message – rather, it's a vestige of an old German experiment, thrown into the ocean 132 years ago.

A woman named Tonya Illman discovered the 19th-century Dutch gin bottle while walking along a beach north of Wedge Island. She originally picked it up because she thought it looked pretty, and wanted to place on her bookcase. But then she found a note inside that was written in German, and dated June 12, 1886.

When they got home, Tonya's husband, Kym, put the message in the oven for a few minutes to dry it off, according to The Guardian. Using his basic knowledge of German, he then determined that the message was asking whomever found the bottle to write down the date and time of discovery, and then mail the bottle's original message with this information to an address in Germany or the nearest German Consulate.

After doing some research online, Kym learned that the bottle was part of a 69-year-old study of global ocean currents by the German Naval Observatory. The couple took the bottle to the Western Australian Museum, which investigated its origins with the help of researchers in Germany.

"From 1864 until 1933, thousands of bottles were thrown into the world's oceans from German ships, each containing a form on which the captain would write the date it was jettisoned, the exact coordinates at the time, the name of the ship, its home port and travel route," reported the Western Australian Museum, where the bottle is currently on display. "On the back, it asked the finder to write when and where the bottle had been found and return it." The message in the recently discovered bottle says it was thrown into the Indian Ocean from the deck of the German ship Paula on its journey from Cardiff, Wales, to Makassar, in modern-day Indonesia. Researchers in Germany corroborated the information on the note with the ship captain's Meteorological Journal, which recorded the jettisoning of a bottle on the same date and at the same coordinates as was listed on the bottle's message. "A handwriting comparison of the bottle message signed by the captain and Paula's Meteorological Journal, shows the handwriting is identical," says Dr. Ross Anderson, assistant curator of maritime archaeology at the museum, according to the press release.

After being thrown overboard, the bottle most likely washed up in Australia within a year, and became covered with wet sand that helped preserve and conceal it for over a century, until a storm blew it away. It's the first bottle and note recovered from this experiment since 1934, though many of the others were not returned.

Dear Fellow Members,

Thank You, Members, for allowing me to serve you as a Flag Officer for the last three years. Prior to my time as a Flag Officer, I had the opportunity to be a member of the Board of Trustees for 2 years. This prepared me for my time on the Flag. I will always fondly remember these experiences.

As we enter 2018, we are looking forward to setting sail for another year of good times with family and friends. Be sure to take time to enjoy everything that our Club has to offer.

I would also like to take the time to thank the Board, Flag Officers, our Club Manager, Yacht Club Staff, and the tireless groups of people who volunteer their time to help ensure an amazing year. We have been working hard planning a season of great dining, entertainment and fun. We are proud to support the July 4th Junior Olympics. Additionally, we enjoy offering, the sailing program, fun packed family nights, the amazing fashion show, weekly quizzos, special theme nights, an annual golf outing and much much more.

Our updated website is improved with useful features. Please check the new website to investigate all of these improvements.

I would be remiss not to thank my husband, Jim. Although he is not an official member of the Board, I couldn't have been successful without his support.

Welcome home, we know you will enjoy 2018 at the Sea Isle Yacht Club!

Committees

Back when the club was just an idea, we had committees. Without our committees, we wouldn't have gotten off the ground. Ideas float and are discussed, talents are exposed and volunteered, and wonderful working relationships are formed for a united purpose of making the club a better place. The committees are headed by a chair who listens to all, then takes the suggestion to the board for a vote.

Our founding fathers set up the bylaws to ensure our club is in keeping with the rules and regulations that apply to a private club, and to this day we abide by them. Our club was founded for the members, by the members.

IN MEMORY OF LOUISE D'ALONZO URBANI

In November of 2016 we said good bye to our longtime friend and member, Louise D'Alonzo Urbani. Louise was the sister of one of our club's founding members. Her brother Joe D'Alonzo and several friends envisioned a yacht club when Louise was but 13 years old.

Her brother served as Commodore in 1949 and 1950. Bob Urbani, Louise's husband was Commodore in 1967, while Louise was President of the Woman's Auxiliary. As Bob served his way through the three flag officer positions, so did Louise through many hours in the club kitchen, organizing club events and developing rapport with other flag officers in the neighboring clubs. Then as their three children, Bob, Gigi and Joe grew up and were active in the club, Louise was very active in the youth groups.

In recent years after Bob passed on, we often saw Louise as a contributing member of the "No Wake" team at Quizzo during the summer months, and entertaining the families of her 3 children for dinner at the club.

Louise had many fond memories of her friends and times at the Yacht Club.

Thank you to our generous sponsors for their support!

Please show them your support in the year to come

Holy Redeemer's Jersey Shore Food Pantry, recently dedicated in the name of Sister Mary Anne McDonagh, works to provide food to those who need it most. The pantry cooperates with the Community Food Bank of New Jersey and other county organizations to serve thousands of hungry individuals each year. The non-profit food distribution center provides non-perishable food items on a monthly basis more than 8,867 families, totaling 24,819 clients who are sick, elderly and impoverished individuals in the Cape May County area.

The need increases every year. Your continued generosity and support of The Holy Redeemer Golf Klassic will help to further this mission.

On behalf of the Pantry's beneficiaries and their families, we thank you for your ongoing support.

Read the new book by YCSIC member Anne Klein...

Ms. Magazine and the Woodstock music festival were still years in the future. Betty Friedan published The Feminine Mystique only a year before they graduated. Yet, unbeknownst even to themselves, a small group of women in the University of Pennsylvania's Class of 1964 was already in the vanguard of what ultimately became one of the largest cultural and economic revolutions in American history, shattering the then existing belief that the only roles in society for women were housewife/mother, secretary, teacher or nurse.
