That's Quite a Send Off, Mrs. Reese

There are few clubs like Long Lake, IL. It is a small lake where families have resided generation after generation. When a house comes up for sale, an established family grabs it so their children and grandchildren have the same idyllic life they have known. And so, in its own way, the family of Past Commodore Reese has planned a private celebration with a boat parade to beat all. It is the Long Lake family who will put Suzi to rest with those she loves best.

I recall meeting this crazy bunch some thirty or so short years ago. Those my age grew up with each other and now their children are parents raising Opti sailors together. The one thing they knew how to do was to love the Inlands and come to party at the Inlands. When it came to dinner time, Long Lake came to celebrate with their sailors and other lifetime friends. Their geographical closeness to Pistakee gave them another inner circle of close friends. Suzi and Norm were from that Pistakee-Long Lake legacy.

And they were proud of their members' contribution to the sport. It was Long Lake who was there at the initial formation of the National C. The (in)famous C poster with the questionable leaders of the fleet in leather sitting astride motorcycles was a Long Lake Ringa creation. There are quite a few high jinx amongst the youngsters of the C fleet that are credited to one single family on Long Lake. Some try to venture out as life takes them away from Long Lake but ultimately they all return. It's a special lake who now celebrates a most special woman.

Sitting in the Porter household is a gifted sign, "A good friend will come and bail you out of jail. . . but a true friend will be sitting next to you saying, "Damn. . . that was fun!" --- Thanks, Suzi, for all you did but for all the fun you brought to us doing it.

Barnes and Dallman-Weis Return to Training

Miami, FL (June 30, 2020). They named their 2020 Summer Olympic bid Perfect Vision Sailing as a play on 20/20 as the measure of ideal eyesight. While they aren't changing the campaign's name, the U.S. Coast Guard's LTJG Nikole Barnes' and Lara Dallman-Weiss' are now focused on the 2021 Summer Olympics. This official announcement comes as helmsman Barnes, 2017 graduate of the U.S. Coast Guard Academy who is currently stationed at U.S. Coast Guard Sector Miami, received an extension to a previously granted two-year support billet from the maritime service to qualify and compete in the world's leading sporting event. What's more, crew Dallman-Weiss and Olympic coach, Robby Bisi, have also both secured the additional time and confirmed their dedication to qualifying as the Women's 470 team to represent the USA at the 2020 Games.

"From the beginning, my command has supported me and they did not waiver when we were confronted with the challenge of the Olympics being postponed for a year. During the past two months that we have been away from on-the-water training, I have been working at my home unit Sector Miami on qualifications, standing COVID-19 watches, and working with my command to request an extension of my training billet. This is a huge risk where the consequences are that I could be passed over for promotion over the next year. With the support of my command and the hard work that I put in during this period, the U.S. Coast Guard has allowed me to extend my training until next summer so that I can compete with my team to qualify for Team USA, compete at the Olympics and stand on the highest part of the podium at the 2021 Summer Olympic Games. I can't thank the U.S. Coast Guard enough for their faith, guidance and support of myself, my athletic endeavors and my professional career," says Barnes, who earned a Bronze Medal in the 420 at the 2011 ISAF Youth Championships and in 2016 was named Quantum Sailor of the Year while a cadet at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy.
