470 World Championships - Final Qualifier for Women's 470s for Tokyo Olympics

Vilamoura, Portugal is the site for the final qualifier for the Women's 470 US berth to Tokyo. Racing begins March 8 and runs through 13th. Two men's teams include Stuart McNay and David Hughes (US Olympic representative) and the second, rather new team with Shawn Harvey and Augie Dale (Pewaukee) on board. Harvey is from Yale and Dale from College of Charleston. On the women's side, there are three teams with another local rockstar, Lara Dallman-Weiss – White Bear - along with skipper Nicole Barnes.

From US Sailing (with local clubs added) - The scores will show a new class: the 470 mixed. This Olympic Development group will also be on the starting line in Vilamoura. Louisa Nordstrom (Yale, Sarasota, Fla.) and Trevor Bornarth (Martin County, Fla.) will race in the new Mixed 470 discipline as the years progress toward 2024 - as will Shawn Harvey (Miami, Fla.) and Augie Dale (Pewaukee, Wis.). All four have their sights set on the Mixed 470 fleet for Paris 2024. Harvey and Dale plan to eventually find female counterparts for their campaigns, but in the meantime are focused on learning as much as they can in the men's fleet, stacked as it is with veterans.

"We're well aware that the fleet will be stiff competition, because everyone in the men's division has been sailing these boats for years and years, so we're just hoping to learn a lot on the racecourse," said Dale. "I'm very excited; it's going to be fun sparring against everyone. We were recently training with the Russians and it was great to see their technique, how they trim, and how they steer through the waves.”

Nordstrom agreed with Dale about the ripe opportunities for improvement, saying, “I’m looking forward to seeing how much progress we make this month, because after just one week of sailing in these conditions it’s crazy to see how much we’ve grown. I’m excited to see what a month of sailing here will do for our growth.”

The Mixed 470 fleet is a new feature on the Olympic stage, debuting at the Paris 2024 Games. Nordstrom and Bornarth noted how the mixed pairs are all fresh, so there is truly a clean slate for who will wind up as the top teams. This is an exciting refreshing time that doesn’t come along very often in Olympic sailing, and the ODP group has a strong appetite to become tomorrow’s legends.
