Next up: ILYA Championships - Oshkosh

And who is this Winnebago anyway?

There is not a sailor alive over 60 who does not have a story about Oshkosh. The memories are vivid; the stories grow longer and longer as the years pass by. (Or was that only Pinocchio's nose?)

Here are some paraphrases from this WYA No Wind weekend:

"Oshkosh was the first event my parents allowed me to attend without them. I was placed on an E scow from Cedar and away we went. The hotel was great but what I remember was THE TENT. Inside that tent, all the activity was grand. There was drinking and there were girls. I knew this is where I would be as I grew up." -----
The editor first thought this was about an old church revival and then a den of iniquity but before you all criticize the characterization, let's consider the storyteller who won the Inlands twice, 40 years apart. He is the most gentlemanly, kind, generous sailor today. So to re-phrase this in today's terms, "the hospitality was remarkable and the girls would become my lifelong friends."

Next --- "It took me ten years to learn those waves. I sailed with Boober Schneider and all the greats. They taught me so much. It was at Oshkosh I learned you could be a gentleman and work together as leaders in the fleet. You COULD give room at the last leeward mark and make a real test out of the last leg. May the best man win!" - This sailor never won that elusive ILYA Championship but he did win Blue Chips, WYA's, Invitationals and still leads his homelake -although he is supposed to be retired! He served the Inlands as a commodore and still serves many regattas as RC. He watched Boober Schneider win the Championship three consecutive years. He has sailed Oshkosh plenty and looks back on those glory years where he learned new skills on a wonderful lake as a youngster among the best. Is it any different today? No, there are fully ten to fifteen who could win this event.

And then there were those "do you remember the soap?" comments. What is that?

As we near August 14th, if you have a story to share, please submit it. We will print each day we have a story. This is not about champions made but memories made. Those of you who are youth have an opportunity to make your own new stories which will be relayed to your youth. Many of you younger sailors have been on Winnebago at the Xtreme. Come back as an adult and enjoy all Oshkosh, the Waters and Winnebago has to give to your personal story.

Here are the numbers ---- WE NEED YOU!

A Scows - 12
E Scows - 38
C Scows - 37
MC scows - 23

Another A scow entered as the editor was preparing this report. Still at least 30 of you to register. Help Oshkosh plan the meals by getting your registration in. Thanks.

And the long awaited softgoods. . .

Here is the link for ILYA Championship preorder goods.
https://stores.coralreefsailing.com/inland_champs_2019/shop/home

There are 30 products online now for your viewing - men's, ladies and children's goods. Light weight T's, tech shirts in short and long sleeve, fleece and outwear. There is something for everyone. Visiting the "showroom" at the Waters is a MUST!!! The best in colors and sizes. Products not on the website will be available for purchase like foul weather gear, high school and fall sailing needs. It's worth a stop (or two or three) to see all the merchandise.

WYA C Regatta - LaBelle is PERFECT!!

Kudos to LaBelle

With no wind predicted, for once all the prognosticators were correct. 2-3 mph for three days straight with one brief interlude of 4-5mph on Saturday early morning. PRO Larry Krause tried to get a start on Saturday at 9:30 but while the course was set in wind, by the time the boats got out on time, the wind was zero. It was a frustrating three days --- or was it?

LaBelle fed us, handled our thirst, provided a perfect venue whether you were at the Community Center, the Harris house or the Stack home. This club was phenomenal in a word. Truly SHRIMP TACOS with avocado crema! A free cocktail and munchy party on Friday. The largest brats and Italians in history on Sat. Homemade desserts donated each day. More Dunkin Donuts than in the store each morning for breakfast and someone honestly made more than a hundred little egg muffin delights. A party in the Harris Barn on Saturday night had the makings of tales to be told. Cullen Barr might be the next unknown on Dancing with the Stars.

The grandest of thanks to LaBelle who had to work so much harder than if the heavens had provided wind. Dick Keck and Salty came over from Shorehaven each day. There are Salty stickers in the Community Center bathrooms -- OK, who would not have guessed that? It was a regatta of pure enjoyment and everyone applauded the winner --- Martin Barr who had his boat packed on the trailer behind the car on Saturday night at the party. He proceeded to text a picture of himself in bed on Sunday morning to all his non-sailing, waiting on the shore, wish I had guts to take my boat out friends.

The WYA C Blue Chip qualifiers now move to Oshkosh ILYA Champs. Be there for the added three slots.

Cedar Lake, WI offers Level I instruction for coaches and also hosts MC Youth Nationals

U.S. Sailing Small Boat Level 1 Course

Cedar Lake Yacht Club is hosting a level 1 course on the weekends of Aug 17-18, and Aug 24-25. This is an outstanding opportunity to get your sailing instructors qualified for next season. It is always tough to get instructors certified in the spring. This is your chance to get it done in the fall. You can sign up using the following link at US Sailing at <https://www.ussailing.org/education/resources/course-calendars/#small-boat-level-1>.

If you have any questions, contact Ed Eckert, 262-343-2396.

MC Youth Nationals

2019 MC Youth Nationals will be held at Cedar Lake Yacht Club on Aug 20-21. This is a great opportunity for you to try out an MC and compete against all of your friends at a great event. Beg, borrow, or steal (not really) an MC and find your way to a great event. Cedar Lake will also try to have some boats available if you can't locate a boat. Housing is available. Please contact Jeff Shabino for any questions, 847-790-6104, shabino@me.com.
