ILYA X Championships - Day ONE

Follow RESULTS HERE

One Race Each Fleet

Big winds and bigger wind - that's how Day One went. Both fleets arrived enthusiastically for the start of the 2019 ILYA X Championships. With 115 boats on the water, it was a sight to behold. The senior fleet hosted a 9:00 warning; the junior fleet 9:30. Today that schedule is reversed.

Chip Mann and his topnotch team got off a beauty with LaBelle's Jackson Walker taking the lead for a comfortable finish line gun.

Sailing OO 144 with crew Paxton Denton (shown above), it was one smiley team as they motored downwind. (Photo by Molly Burns). Augie Jarecki and Alex Mueller were the next big boys to cross the line. The crowd exploded as local sailor Kate Ness with Martha Hughes took third. Pine's Kit Harned and Stella Marban sneaked into fourth. The top five was rounded out by Cedar's Barkow team of Austin and Max.

Meanwhile on the Junior fleet . . .

Team Tesar got off a start on the first go. Three boats were OCS (one at one minute) but all returned and dug back the first leg. Steady, steady wind in the 13-16 range was a gift to the fleet.

Jack Steiner and Alec Harned led start to finish. (It was a great day for the Harneds with two in the senior fleet in the top ten and a win on the junior fleet) (For those of you at home, it is no small feat to spectate this event as the two fleets sail simultaneously - consider the many parents running between fleets. If only someone would invent a Jumbotron for the water - or maybe a live feed - so parents could see both at the same time. Both families on the junior winning boat had children in the senior fleet.) Back to racing - Finn Burdick and Colton Burdick never left second place with his consistent performance the entire race. North Lake's junior standout this year, Cole Thompson and Julia Janssen just took Pewaukee's Fritz Simon and Megan Isabell at the line. And then came Delavan who has been a powerhouse in terms of performance this year. Their entire fleet is consistent with anyone of them leading the Delavan crew. Yesterday it was Graham Hetzler and Macey McClenathan - whose brother is over on the senior course in 7th.

A brief video of X-41 winning the junior race is here.

But here is what this is about. Look at the faces - enlarge if you can:

Volleyball continues to be KING. Sam Rogers turns out to be a mutli-dimensional guy. He is known for sailing but volleyball may be his other unknown talent - referee for parents and sailors, organizer and recorder.

The X fleet met under the tent during the "wait for the wind to die down" time. X fleet representative Ted Rolfs led the fleet through a number of topics - future regatta sites and formats, trophies, radios - with vigorous vocal expression from the youth. An after-meeting suggestion was made for a radio lending program for this event which will be forwarded up the chain. There are a few new families who would benefit from this --- or maybe the sailor who just plain forgot. The introduction of radios has been nearly 100% inclusive in its inaugural year.

Last night was a social night off to allow the fleet to enjoy the Minnetonka area. Tonight is the big party. The island will be rocking.

Thanks to Minnetonka in advance for a great event. Competitors and volunteers alike are smiles ear to ear. Old faces at registration welcomed the oldtimers back. The new faces of Minnetonka are so gracious to us visitors. The chef, Connie Blanchard, is no stranger to this group. Her son David won the event many years ago. Diane Bowers was serving breakfast. It's a who's who of Minnetonka's rich history.

Top 10 Reasons to Come to Oshkosh for the ILYA Championship Regatta

1. Sail With The Best

The starting line is where it all begins. Be there with past and future Olympians and Inland champs.

2. Iconic Trophies

Compete for some of the most coveted trophies in the sailing world. As per the advice of sailing legend and ILYA friend, Buddy Melges "Get ahead stay ahead."

3. Sailor Friendly

We have ample parking and launch ramps for wet and dry sail as well as big water for multiple fleets. The entire Miller's Bay launch and trailer site is reserved for this event.

4. The Waters: More Than A Headquarters

From lunch to late night you will find food, beverages, friends and professional staff and volunteers to enhance your regatta experience

5. Unforgettable Parties at The Waters

The regatta kicks off Wednesday night. Order off the menu, enjoy live music and view the first A Scow race from shore. Thursday night the Bilge Pullers will be holding their annual event.

Also, on Thursday night, join us at Oshkosh's iconic Waterfest featuring The Zombies at the Leach Amphitheater. We'll be giving free tickets at registration. Friday is an early evening bash complete with music, heavy snacks and post-race banter. Saturday evening includes a dinner buffet, an even bigger band and fun to be had by all.

ALL WELCOME FOR A GOOD TIME SIGN UP HERE

6. Be Part of History

The Oshkosh Yacht Club, one of the founding ILYA clubs, is celebrating its 150th anniversary. You'll have the opportunity to view rarely seen ILYA trophies on loan from the Oshkosh Public Museum and toast to the next 150 years of competition, sportsmanship and friendship.

7. Oshkosh Rocks!

We're more than Lake Winnebago. Watch this, it says it all!

8. Sweet Apparel

Coral Reef is providing apparel for purchase at headquarters to commemorate this historic and all-around unforgettable event.

9. Friendships Abound

The ILYA has been bringing people together for years. In Oshkosh, a central ILYA location, you'll catch up with old friends and have a chance to meet sailors and their families.
