Day Two of Xtreme was mild, light and lighter. What a change from Day One. The wind conditions provided a near inversion for some sailors. It was great practice for the next two large regattas. Of note is no sailor had all four races in the top ten. That's tough sailing conditions but marvelous learning. In the end Kamron Kaiser and Peter Wilkinson with a range of 1-14 took the title. Three other sailors had three top ten finishes: Finn Burdick with Colton Hibbard, Jared and Joey Plummer and Jackson Walker with Paxton Denton. It was a question of how the sailors' worst race impacted the rest of the series. It was a regatta where the sailors learned to "dig" back up and what persistence it took on Day Two. Great sailing and patience was witnessed. Winnebago was simply beautiful these two days.

The photo above is Race Three which was a tight finish between Kaiser and Jonah Boykin and Callie Smith. Race Two was won by Pine's Suzanne Ackley and Molly Hostetler.

The Waters Monday night setting was picture perfect: mild breeze, Oshkosh local Laser sailing for viewing, outdoor or indoor dining (this may have been the most exceptional food and service ever), children playing together at games with loads of prizes to win. It was an evening for friends to just enjoy friends. Thanks to Oshkosh and the Waters for welcoming us so congenially. See you in August!

Protest Kits from SailZing

Model boats come with one, two or three sails

A recent protest used the Sailzing protest fleet kits with a request for the purchase info. The kits have four identical models to easily show the progression of the incident. They come in a small bag to easily carry the set with you to events. The kits are available in an Opti (one sail) version as well as a double sail and spinnakered model. Check out Sailzing for these models, interviews, sailing trim tips and other information. Sailzing is administered by two retired MC sailors who just love to promote sailing. Most recently the editor overheard MC sailors stating this is the site they visit first to research a question. To hear Chapman Petersen on sail trim, Peter Keck on A scows, photos of MC rigging - this is your site. It is a resource which is ever expanding. SailZing also hosted and developed the Fair Sailing scenarios for the ILYA. The ILYA #FairSailing quiz is hosted here. Look for announcement Monday of the second year quiz which is a bit more challenging.

ILYA C Invitational - Still Room for more

Dinner and Band on Saturday Night for Okauchee Fun

Regatta Chair Tom Groskopf promises fun for the fleet - sailing, partying and enjoying the newly remodeled (one year ago) Okauchee YC. It is the most comfortable place to enjoy your friends on no wind days and the lake is challenging with the best sailors around.

PRO Rick Trester promises good racing; old pro sailor Mark Prange is working race committee so he can't use the homelake advantage to win the event. Somehow Pranges end up behind the bar working along with so many familiar Okauchee sailors.

Dave Smith and his daughters are hard to beat at any lake so come join the other 30 pre-registered boats to give him some good competition.

The food is always generous and a great value. It's a marvelous volunteer club where they love to invite YOU!
