Melges 14 Midwinters - Sarasota

Shootout at the Melges corral. Want to check your tiebreaking skills? Here is where it counts.

Hmmmm? Do you include the throwouts?

Check Appendix A in your rulebook for the answer. Eddie Cox and Harry Melges IV were neck and neck with Eddie taking the final title. Full results here. It was a Lake Geneva show with Jeff Solum somehow breaking the pattern. Top five were Cox, Harry IV, Harry III, Solum from Minnetonka and Finn Rowe. The 27 boat fleet appeared to enjoy the beautiful conditions.

The MC's added the Melges 14s to their event at Sarasota. The MC class hosts its Midwinters in Eustis, March 14-16. Nineteen boats, mostly Floridians with a couple northerners mixed in, warmed up for the big winter regatta. Full results here.

Optis

Meanwhile over at Jensen Beach, FL more Optis than imaginable were sailing RWB and Green. ILYA sailors were represented in both fleets. In the Green fleet, Sophie and Tillie Niemann from Madison traveled down along with Beulah's Hailey Greeson. A little breakdown near Atlanta but that just adds the war stories of a sailing career. The Green fleet was "tracked" not scored but see the scores here. Local RC Russ Sabotta worked with the Green Fleet both days.

In RWB, the Buddy Melges Racing Team sported a conglomerate of sailors. Liebers cheat by enjoying warm weather all winter but they were gracious hosts to Allens also from Pewaukee in the summer.

Peter Barnard of Chicago in 15th was the top Midwest competitor; Charlie Allen 35th and Midwest adopted sailor William Baker in 39th. Baker is nephew of past ILYA commodore Jeff Baker but it's young William who is putting the Baker name in the headlines these days. A total 206 sailors were on the line.

Educational Opportunities This Winter

Sign up for the Dave Dellenbaugh clinic on Sunday, March 10th.

YOU ARE STILL WELCOME. In the editor's view, this is one of the most beneficial courses you can take to prepare for the 2019 season. Dave is straightforward in his approach, entertaining in his delivery and more knowledgeable than imaginable. He explains your questions in a way that will clear your mind.

Those of you who attended last year's session know this is a not-to-be missed opportunity. Dave is nationally and internationally acclaimed as an expert in strategy and the rules. Sportsmanship is key during his presentations. Again this year, Dave has requested special pricing and up front seating for the youth. They attend for half price. In addition, he has added a most discounted opportunity to receive his popular Speed and Smarts quarterly publication for $12 (Regular $38). That has been built into the event pricing. Most sailors have these as keepsakes to review an aspect of the course. The publications are created around a topic with exceptional diagrams.
