It was a nailbiter as V213 who was leading yesterday and then finished 2nd in the first race, rounded in the high 40s in the last race of the day, first leeward mark. Loads of ground to pick up. He bravely took the less-favored gate to the south shore and picked up boat after boat after boat to finish in 18th! This is very young man in his first year of skipping the X boat. But add the strength of his older champion sister as a crew, and Fritz Simon squeaked out the win. Sam Spencer had an amazing Day 2 with a 3-4 to only be outdone by 3rd place final finisher Chapman Petersen with a 4-1. The lead changes on Day Two were exciting to watch. Each lake had victories to celebrate (and a new name for Pewaukee as GLSS director Marek Valasek called it Victory 213 or Victory 88 and Victory 4).

- Pewaukee had to feel that "victory" as they sailed so consistently in this event. With six in the top 20, they were dominant. It is the midfleet improvement that was great to see - Kamron and Quinn Kaiser breaking into the top 20. Gloria Tornehl in 22nd and Ella Schieble in 12th. Ella gets stronger and stronger with each event.
- With an "oh, my goodness" for Delavan. Two in the top ten and Keaton Sperling in 13th! They are here to make a statement. 8 boats is a healthy regatta fleet. Congrats to instructors Will Huerth, Allison Marozza, John Barr and Zack McClenathan --- they are superstars in character, cheerleading and coaching this fleet to the top.
- Pine --- take a good look at that crowd. They come off a strong, strong Quad regatta and struggled a little with the waves not seen on their homelake. When the fleet gets to Pewaukee, more Pine's style of water, watch for that strong fleet.
- Geneva -- what numbers and what fun these kids are having. The coaches have those kids working as a team. So many, many sailors of all ages and abilities and they know how to sail Geneva big water. The new team shirts are enough to make anyone envious. Moms and sailors sporting Geneva red but with a kicky plaid down one sleeve.
- Minnetonka and White Bear came with a huge northern force growing in numbers. There were some real successful moments for the young Minnetonka sailors slipping around marks in the top ten. It's just marvelous to see a club come from zero X boats to a good-sized fleet.
- Cedar has perhaps the largest X fleet in the country. They were short in numbers this event but those 20 boats will appear at WYA en force. Abby Eckert and Brittany Shabino led the charge here at Geneva. Each had a great day. Brittany was sitting in second after Day 1 and Abby's (along with Chapman Petersen's) ZFP impacted her final placement
- LaBelle had a last race surge to the delight of that crowd. A 2-3 finish was met with loud cheers.
- Beulah is experiencing a building year with the exception of their two seniors. Watch out in 3-4 years as the Kinderpram class there is nearing 20 in numbers. Jonah Boykin had some outstanding finishes and one stinker.
- Oshkosh, like Beulah, is building. Abe Weston has won a race in the last two regattas. Watch for him at Xtreme
- Thanks to the Wagners for traveling from Okoboji. That is quite a haul!

Optis Up Next

Following awards for X boat, the Optis took to the water. A transition of boats, parents (in some cases) and RC and off they went. But the wind did not cooperate as the conditions got lighter and lighter. The 21-boat Green fleet got in two but the RWB fleet finished one. Wind shifts of 50 degrees did not help the Green fleeters but they smiled their way in. The wind was a bit more improved over in RWB but dwindling in intensity. The fleet are scored by color for this event
