This says it all for the A's on Tuesday. With an 11:00 scheduled start and radar scans of storms in the area, PRO Hodgson fought the weather all day. The fleet bobbed (pleasantly) for an hour and then was sent to shore. by 3:30, the day was concluded. The wind arrived at 5:00 ish but again with the threat of a storm.

As always, the evening party was beautiful wind and a sunset to melt the heart. Minnetonka provided a perfect picture on the island for a Low Country Boil. Thanks to Connie Blanchard for a fabulous meal. Many of you may not know her son is a past X Inland Champ - who needs to come back to sailing!

The A's begin this morning at 9:30 to attempt two races before noon. The event changes over to C's and E's today with registration and a Thursday morning start. Minnetonka will be hopping with an anticipated 60 C scows (14 youth) and 59 E's (9 youth). Race committee shakes it up a bit on Thursday. PROs will be Larry Krause - C scows and Chip Mann - E scows. Many of the A sailors remain to sail the second session. The A's featured 140 sailors; next session 350 sailors.

(Picture above is of a postponement flag - the red and white - and an A flag indicating racing is done for the day.) The next race sailed will be Race #5.

MC Championships - Upper Minnetonka

One race yesterday

The MC's began an hour before the A's and got one race in with a shortened course. An attempt in the afternoon was to no avail. MC's will try this morning for two also.
