Last RC course before the season begins!*Hope the snow melts before the start!

So you want to serve on race committee? Understand the concept of time-based course lengths? How do I set a course with shifts? How do I know how far I am from the start if I am responsible for setting the windward mark? How long should the starting line be and how do I know how long it is?

This course, April 28th at Harken, will teach you the practical aspects of course setting. Sign up for the course and bring a radio, any RC equipment you can borrow and warm clothes. We will be setting courses outside in all but the most inclement weather. So maybe not tomorrow.
