Sunday, the layday between X and Opti, found Delavan marking the grounds for Optimist Dinghy storage. But the day was filled with tours of Melges, a clinic by Geneva Director Marek Valasek and Harken's Bill Goggins put on a show.

Monday Morning

It takes quite a facility to contain us all and, more importantly, keep us all happy and fed. The breakfast table looked like locusts had swept through. Young eager sailors used the "grab and go" style of eating as they seem eager to meet with friends and eager to get the racing started. The breeze was a perfect 7-10 MPH with a steady direction - well, as steady as a shifty lake can be. The predominant wind held all day. The RWB fleet got off to a most successful three races; the Green fleet started half an hour later and got in two.

Green Fleet

Forty-six (!) little sailors on the water and do they look great! In so many ways - sportsmanship was the key emphasis at the Fleet meeting. Finn Thompson doing circles at the finish with nary a thought to his final finish position. Catherine Bransfield coming up after the race to explain a 720! The RC is calling (not protesting) hit marks and other rules infractions to teach the proper etiquette on the water. Loads of circles unprovoked by someone calling, "Protest". It's been a pleasure to watch this fleet.

Green fleet start is improving - loads of the fleet on starboard, more than half in first row. Today our goal is to get up on the line.

Roble - Shea

Today is the day. The 49er Europeans divide the fleet into Gold and Silver today. The US team is in 23rd but need to be in 20th to make the Gold Fleet. They have been solid in top ten in their flight. Good luck today. Gp to ILYA-Inland Lake Yachting Association Facebook to see their latest photos or follow them on their page. Follow today's racing here.

Will Michels

North Lake's Michels is currently in Weymouth, England sailing the British Opti Championships. He has made the Gold Fleet and will continue sailing today. Follow here.
