If there was ever a story to be told about the C scow class, it would be about the youth initiative and its results. The race committee marveled at the youth in the lead pack in winds in the upper teens. Each race had the crowd marvelling at the youth at the top. It is a proud testament to the efforts led by the C Scow National Class when they introduced its additional 50% payment added to the ILYA Youth Initiative of youth paying half price. FIFTEEN of the thirty-four boats registered qualified for FREE regatta registration. Now, the club does not realize that loss. They get paid full freight by the ILYA and NCSSA but this is what generosity does for a class. Attendance is down a bit for this class but the Fri-Sat-Sun format may contribute to that.

As for the day's racing --- PRO Mark Tesar had his hands full in the morning with wide wind swings and with high winds in the afternoon's single race. An "on the line" tipover at Race 1 start at 1:00 to go. RC boats struggling mightily to keep anchored; it was a fantastic day on the water as we assessed it all at day's end.

October

1-2 Polar Bear - Davenport, IA
 8-9 C Worlds - Delavan

Nagawicka is one of the clubs emblematic of this year's ILYA Championship theme, Sail it Forward. The all volunteer club had a cadre or maybe an army of folks on hand. The kitchen volunteers were so welcoming. Commodore Mary Lloyd Murphy is a Southern Belle - a real beauty inside and out - and she leads the most energetic, hardworking club around. Regatta Chair Judy Grosch has it organized like clockwork. It's a sheer pleasure to visit here. The pride of the club is seen in just one example -- the dedication Paul Price takes with handling the racing equipment and boat.
