Sailing under the Capitol

Photographers wait for shots like this and Bruce Fritz, a freelancer in Madison, hit the jackpot. For many here, it's an opportunity to come home to remembered carefree days; for all of us, it has been a picture perfect regatta - thanks to the many, many volunteers from Monona and Mendota, spectacular support from Madison sponsors and special recognition to the Hull and Eckert families for coordinating the regatta. There are countless others with no intention to omit anyone.

On the water, near perfection. Temps in the 90s for the first time of the year but the wind build all day to provide a comfortable set of three rides. It was a tease of a day, first race 10MPH for a nice, enjoyable challenge; more wind after noon for a 12-16 CHALLENGE since boats were sailing back to back with few taking on a third. After lunch, sailing developed into a 17-25mph.

Another Bruce Fritz photo of one of three starts. One general recall due to wind shift. Changing conditions had the crew of Chip Mann, Bill Best, Jack Eckert, Larry Krause, Rick Trester, Mark and Debbie Prange working all day with Charlie flags.

"The first shall be last" --- It was a days of riches and rags. P4 Chris Rierson took the first gun - - - but had the honor of last place in race three after a tipover.

Next seventeen-year-old DJ Jaessing/Joe Byrnes won a race and fell to near last. The overall day one leader is B303 Frank Davenport/Ron Jarecki with a most consistent performance.

Race three was all N181 with Peter Keck/Ben Porter and Morgan Keck. They sit in overall second but substantially behind Davenport.

The following three shots are again from Bruce Fritz who seemed to enjoy the ride with the exception of a starting horn surprising him each time. He did note the intensity of the signal boat of Julie Haeger/Marilyn Krause/ Candace Porter. He thought there might be a little Jekyll and Hyde disorder comparing the lighthearted pre-race atmosphere and then the "game day" mentality change.

Regatta co-chair Tom Eckert with his lifelong crew Dave Schmidt.

George and Dad Jim Kutschenreuter in race two.

The fleet is closely-packed at each mark demonstrating the even skill level throughout the fleet. Multiple ILYA, WYA and Nationals Champs are on the line.

All in all, a picture perfect day in all respects. The Monona Sailing Club has pulled out all the stops. The Friday party was on the this beautiful body of water at the Elks club. Not many of us have seen this side of the Capitol while sailing and what a pleasure it is. The homes and hospitality are exceptional. RC extends a special expression of gratitude to the Hull Family who have shared their marvelous home with us for a day of pre-organization, lunch on Friday due to lack of parking space at Olin Park and so many kind gestures. Thanks to co-chair Ron Hull. He is everywhere attending to sailors and support crew needs. Thanks, Ron.

Editor's Note - I was quite rightly and so gently reprimanded after my last Scowlines for an appearance of indicating sailing was only for men. Shame on me of all people as I am the mother of two fine, fine skippers who know how to sail but also serve as a supporter of the sport. So to Andrea Sullivan, Anne Muller and Christine McNeil - strong skippers of a C, sail on. To the many, many, many female crew, sail on. To the women of RC who return regatta after regatta, sail on. This is a sport where male and female compete on a level playing field. It is a sport where everyone in a family plays a role.

Lastly, I am in the generation of Gloria Steinem and I did attend Madison during the days of Vietnam demonstrating and Women's Liberation. Seems like I need to return more often to recall who I am. Somehow this sailing and family got in the way --- it's a perfect life.
