News from the ILYA

We are ready - how about you?

Registration - All our events are now "live". Watch for deadlines for early registration lower fees. Our first event is the ILYA 420 Championship on Okauchee Lake June 22-24. Deadline for early entry is June 8th. ILYA 420 registration

The BEST deal is the low early bird rate for the social package at the ILYA Championships in August on Lake Geneva. A June 15th commitment is as low as it goes. Thanks go to the ILYA Executive Committee and the Finance Team of Dave Berg, Tom Larimer and Todd Haines for the most generous reduction and subsidy for our youth sailors. intergenerational friendships, the cross-sailing class camaraderie, the parties which are remembered for years, and the skippers and crews who compete in our world-class Championships" said David Perrigo of UBS Financial and "Sail It Forward" Platinum Sponsor.

Thank you to David Perrigo and UBS for sponsorship of the ILYA Championships for three years. Last year our theme honored our Legends and Heroes. This year, a theme closer to David's heart, is recognition of the many volunteers from all aspects of our member clubs who make our clubs run so successfully. Each of our member clubs will receive a letter in email and snail mail form inviting the selection of the one volunteer who exemplifies who we are. Those designees will be honored this year all day Friday with a luncheon and dinner. Video vignettes of our volunteers will run throughout the event to showcase our appreciation of their efforts. We hope a homelake sailor will proudly introduce the volunteer at our evening party. Look for more info at your club Board level.

Cedar, Cedar, Cedar

May 7-8 It's off to the races at Cedar, IN

Let summer begin. In an idyllic world, (heck, in a normal world) families celebrate Mother's Day each May. Additionally, there may be a festive party in your neighborhood to enjoy watching the Kentucky Derby with summer dresses, mint juleps and spring flowers. In a C sailor's world, both are celebrated at a bar in northwestern Indiana. --- And they are fun! The Cedar Icebreaker is upon us. There is housing still available by calling (219) 661-0622 or emailing Roger Growden <rdajg4@yahoo.com>. It's a late Saturday morning start 10:00 skippers meeting. You can drive down on Saturday morning when the Chicago traffic is light. Larry Krause and his team need to sweep away the cobwebs so it is casual. Larry is promising to even get behind the grill on Friday evening. Check the forecast? No, don't bother. The folks are all so friendly you will want to be there rain or shine. If rain, you will enjoy the lovely clubhouse even more. It's always a memorable time in Cedar Lake, In. The best breakfasts imaginable. Come join us!

May 14-15 - C and MC

Cedar Lake will host the Spring regatta May 14-15. We will be using short track racing. Lots of starts! With 20-40 minute races. Best of all the Melges team will be on hand Friday, May 13, to sharpen your skills. Get your boat in by 2:00 PM to have on the water coaching. Is your traveler in the right spot, trimmed too tight? A Melges pro will be there to help. On shore chalk talk will be at about 4:30. A bit later drinks and a dinner at the Paul Reilly residence on Big Cedar Lake. It's a can't miss.

Racing Saturday starts at 10:00 AM for MC and 10:30 AM for C's. Saturday night dinner at the yacht club. Sunday racing too! See the CLYC web site for more detail. www.clyc.com

C boaters will get to race against last year's ILYA champ and the National points champ. This will surely be a Blue Chip qualifying event.

Charleston Spring E Regatta

from National E scow website

Recap Day 3

By Naomi Van den Bergh
Sailing Director @ Carolina Yacht Club

Congratulations to Russ Lucas (BH-8), John Bowden, Elizabeth Mignon, and Sam Rogers for winning the 2016 E-Scow Regatta! The team is "really really happy" with their win. Russ took a year off from sailing and just picked up the tiller again three weeks ago. He sailed the Bulls Eye Nationals with his father, then attended Charleston Race Week and won the Melges 20 Nationals, and now to top it all off he wins Charleston's E-Scow Regatta! "Each regatta was special. I couldn't be more fortunate as I get to sail against my friends." It is hard to find a more grateful sailor.

The last day of the 2016 E-Scow Regatta was perfect. The sun was out and we had 12-15 kts of breeze. There was definitely some tight racing today! "It came down to the last leg of the last race..." a slightly disappointed Robby Wilkins (SC-55) tells me when I ask him when he realized he lost the regatta. Will Hanckel (SC-22) started the day out well but missed a chance for a decent throw-out, and ends in 3rd overall.

Brian Gabriel (T-53) sailed excellent today with a 3rd and 2nd place finish, but due to technical difficulties wasn't able to finish the last race. Petey Crawford (II-1) climbed back out of nowhere in the very last race with a bullet. "It has been a fun event, with tricky sailing. It was an excellent opportunity to learn," says Kevin Jewett (GA-21).

Everyone seems to be tired and happy. Lots of great compliments were given towards the race committee again and to everyone who helped making this event great! Everyone is excited about next year's event. It is believed we can double the attendance as many E-Scow sailors will want to check out the venue and get some time on the water here in Charleston Harbor before the 2017 Nationals held by the Carolina Yacht Club.

Many thanks to all sailors for attending this event and to all volunteers for donating their time and expertise. Until next year!
