Sailing School Instructors

Many Clubs Still Looking

"Instructors are the cornerstone of the sport. They lay a solid foundation of skills, but also keep it fun and inspire kids to stay engaged; they are incredible mentors. Every world-class sailor can name the instructor or coach who has been a big part of their success." - Jack Gierhart, Executive Director of US Sailing.

Summer instruction is right around the corner. Many clubs are still seeking instructors - Mendota, Pine, Nagawicka just to name a few. Never underestimate the influence an instructor has on your child. Hire the best ---- and our ILYA sailors are the best. We have raised fine individuals who love the sport. If you are a sailor who wishes to teach, forward your name to us and we will distribute your name to those who ask us. If you are a school looking for instructors, consider our website by contacting dberg@ilya.org.

US Sailing offers training courses which every instructor should attend. This is not about teaching racing; it is developing strong instructors who know how to teach, know how to structure a class that is safe, fun AND skill-based.

Sportsmanship, health, site safety, water safeguards, diplomacy with parents --- yes, that's you--- are all included in the courses. It is about TEACHING sailing and can't all of us benefit from this.

Sailing school directors, you may take this course but the ILYA hopes to bring you a day of program development in the Fall.

Check US Sailing under education for a Level 1 or 2 Dinghy instruction course near you.

More iceboating stories

submitted by Jane Pegel

The Deuce is the world's largest iceboat. 55 ft. She was built in Detroit for Clair Jacobs, Then owned by Bill Perrigo. She is currently owned by Rick Hennig from Racine, who completely rebuilt her. In the summer Rick also races his boat "Denali" and won his division in the Mackinac race in 2014. Bill Mattison designed a complete new hull (we refer to it as the "backbone") for the Deuce in 2005 and a work party glued it together.

The Debutante is second largest and is owned by Mike Derusha, Menominee, MI. (son of Roger Derusha). In summer sailing, the Harken clan crewed for Roger Derusha in Mac races.

The Derusha family founded Marinette Marine Corporation, builder of ships for the US Navy and Coast Guard.

Bill Mattison also designed a new backbone for the Debutante and a work party glued it together.

Work party photos attached.

US Sailing Judges Course --- It's for you!!

Pewaukee - THIS SATURDAY

One of the ILYA and US Sailing's goals is to have at least one qualified US Sailing Club Judge at each inland club. While this is a tall order, we need to start by training willing candidates. This course offers a hands on approach through class room, roleplaying, and study of actual hearings. It is well worth the fee and the lunch the PYC will serve will make it all worth the trip and your time.

Who should attend this course?

You! This is not a course to make you a rules guru. You do not need full understanding of the intricacies of the Racing Rules of Sailing. This is about learning the process of protests. Many folks of all levels of sailing proficiency took the course last year. They all came away with an appreciation for running a protest meeting. Remember, protest committees are usually comprised of three individuals. You all bring differing knowledge and understanding to the hearing. Now is the time to start to feel comfortable volunteering as a judge in that hearing. Bruce Martinson is expert but brings teaching down to all levels. He makes it seem straightforward. There were nothing but kudos from last years' courses east and west.

The link to registration is below. You have to have your cursor on the left side of the screen to scroll down to the different seminars. If anyone has a problem finding it have them give me a call.
